WELCOME

Dear Members, Partners, and Friends:

Welcome to the New Mexico Counties' 82nd Annual Conference, which is being hosted this year by Socorro County. The county has worked hard to plan special events that showcase its theme: "Where History and Technology Meet." We hope that during your visit you will have an opportunity to see why Socorro County is truly a unique community that embraces both its rich heritage and its cutting edge technology and innovation.

One of the highlights of this conference will be a special panel discussion on House Bill 2 and the state budget with Senate Finance Committee Chair John Arthur Smith, House Appropriations Vice Chair George Dodge, and Legislative Finance Committee Executive Director David Abbey. They will be discussing how the state budget is created, and how it impacts county government. New Mexico Counties' lead legislative team member Brian Moore will moderate the discussion. This general session is not to be missed!

At this conference, we are also excited to unveil the new branding campaign for New Mexico Counties. You will notice our new logo design and abbreviated title throughout the venue. The Executive Committee's and the Board of Directors' goal was to create a more contemporary look and to separate our organization from a countless number of other associations throughout the state. We are the only statewide organization that serves as one voice for New Mexico's counties; we are 33 STRONG!

We hope that you will take time during the conference to visit with our sponsors and exhibitors. This year we are also hosting a number of special door prize drawings at each of the exhibitor sessions. We have set aside time before and after each of the general sessions for you to visit the exhibit hall and learn about their services. Their partnership and support is invaluable to our organization and to our membership.

We hope that you enjoy the conference and take some time to explore the local delights that Socorro has to offer.

Sincerely,

upan Flores

Susan Flores New Mexico Counties President & Otero County Commissioner

Steve Kopelman New Mexico Counties Executive Director

SOCORRO COUNTY

Welcome from Socorro County

On behalf of the City of Socorro, Village of Magdalena and Socorro County, I welcome you to the one of the most beautiful, diverse, and historically rich regions of not only New Mexico but of the entire world. Socorro County is truly where history and technology meet. In our community, our neighbors range from a farmer and descendant of the conquistadors to a world-renowned astrophysicist. As one of New Mexico's original counties, it is only fitting that we share our home with the entire state.

Our residents enjoy an inviting outdoor lifestyle, open spaces, beautiful night skies, cultural arts, and a broad range of recreational activities from rock climbing in Box Canyon to fishing at Escondida Lake. We hope you and your guests will be able to explore the many assets we have to offer and to enjoy our enviable weather - more than 300 days of sunshine and mild temperatures year round! We've organized several special events for your guests to experience both history and technology in Socorro.

Thank you to the New Mexico Counties and to all City and County staff members and volunteers for their many hours of organizing and service toward a successful conference. The name Socorro was given by early explorers for the succor "help or assistance" provided to those early travelers in need; if you see any of our employees during the conference, know that it is our tradition to help and we are all at your service.

Sincerely,

Pauline Jaramillo, Chair Socorro County Board

SOCORRO COUNTY

Socorro County History

Socorro (literally to give aid, to give succor) was indeed a source of help to the first expedition of Spanish families traveling north from Mexico in 1598, led by Don Juan de Oñate y Salazar. Socorro's first inhabitants, Piro-speaking people of the Teypana Pueblo, welcomed the scouting party of Oñate and his men. They showed no fear of the strangers, according to Oñate's official log, and with hand signs told the group what lay ahead. When the Teypana inhabitants unexpectedly gave the group a large gift of corn, Oñate renamed the pueblo Socorro.

Oñate's expedition began a century of trade along El Camino Real (the Royal Road). From its early days of caravans bringing missionaries and supplies, the road over its 223-year history connected the New Mexico Territory to Mexico and Spain. Little parajes (resting places) sprang up along the Rio Grande from Paraje de Fra Cristobal, at the northern end of Jornada del Muerto, to Casa Colorado in the northern end of today's Socorro County. A bit of the oldest trail in North America can still be traversed along a dirt road section east of Escondida and El Camino Real is beginning to receive the recognition it deserves in history.

The arrival of the railroad in the 1880s brought miners, merchants, and cattlemen to Socorro County. In the west, Magdalena became the center of mining activities and the "End of the Trail" for cattle drives from farther west. The town of Socorro sported a grain mill, a brewery and smelters to process the ores. California mission style homes and buildings took their place among the adobes in the booming towns. In 1889, the area's first university opened: the New Mexico School of Mines, now known as New Mexico Tech. NM Tech has garnered an international reputation in the sciences and is consistently rated as a top college nationally. The Tech campus is also home to the National Radio Astronomy Observatory's VLA and VLBA, and several associated entities.

Socorro County can reach high temperatures in the Summer months. Please remember to stay hydrated.
