

Join the NACo Opioid Solutions Leadership Network NACo will select up to 26 county officials to join the Leadership Network, which will involve virtual and in-person convenings (travel reimbursed) to explore members' opioid response efforts and share strategies for scaling and replicating these strategies in members' home jurisdictions. The call for applications will close November 9. The Opioid Solutions Leadership Network is a learning and leadership-building community for county leaders pursuing innovative and evidence-based opioid solutions. Network members will participate in virtual convenings and travel to one another's communities to explore abatement strategies across the continuum of care and share ideas for replicating and scaling these strategies in their respective communities. County officials involved in allocating opioid settlement funds are invited to apply. APPLY HERE!

Detention Administrator Mark Gallegos (center) and Programs Captain Melissa Lujan were hand selected by the 9th Judicial District Court to represent the Curry County Detention Center in improving the court and community response to those with mental health illness. County Manager Amber Hamilton, Judges from the 9th Judicial District Court, city and county agencies, and Cannon Air Force and hospital representatives participated in this critical summit and task force discussion.

The New Mexico Counties Better Informed Public Officials \(BIPO\) Conference is designed to bring together newly elected and veteran county elected officials for three days of education, networking, and collaboration held in person on December 6-8, 2022, at the Embassy Suites Albuquerque. NMC partners with the NM EDGE Program in providing the curriculum for elected and non-elected officials. Newly elected county officials can get a strong start in their county leadership role by attending New Mexico's most comprehensive training opportunity. First time newly elected officials attend free of charge. NMC provides special scholarships to cover the cost of enrollment and class fees for NM EDGE classes. Register online and when prompted enroll for the NM EDGE Program. Attendees must be enrolled in the NM EDGE Program to receive credit for the courses. Veteran elected officials and county staff are encouraged to register for $200 with separate enrollment for NM EDGE classes. Please see the 'About & Fees' page for class fees and group discounts. NMC will provide a limited number of discounted audit registrations for those that attended 2020 BIPO virtually. Questions? Contact Talia Storch, tstorch@nmcounties.org.

NMCA Board Strategic Planning The pool board engaged Lisa Edwards, visual artist and facilitator extraordinaire with Get The Picture, to help work through some foundational items as a part of the Pool's strategic planning effort. The group moved through the Pool's history into the present and vision into the future. To view the visual outcomes, plan to attend the Pool's membership meeting on Tues. Jan. 17, 2023 at 9AM during the NMC Legislative Conference in Santa Fe.
