

NMC President Valencia County Commissioner Jhonathan welcomes newly elected officials to BIPO training with a cross dialogue with newly elected, veteran elected, and managers about why they ran, what they hope to get out of BIPO, and advice from managers on how to be successful during their terms.

NMC Executive Director Joy Esparsen moderated the veteran elected panel who shared first time experiences and tips when first taking office as a new county elected official.

The media panel brought interactive fun initiating mock interviews with newly elected assessors, commissioners, probate judges, and sheriffs. The members learned how important relationships are with the media and how to respond to questions.

BIPO training included roles and responsibilities, ethics, county government and resources, risk management, and general HR law.
